COL. DOCKERY IS HOPEFUL

That the Elections Gommittee Will Seat Him

WORST CASE OF PARTISANSHIP

Yet Seen is the Decision of the Committee in the Pearson-Crawford Contest from the Ninth District.

Special to the TELEGRAM.

Washington, Feb. 8—A favorable report having been made upon the bill of Representative Cooper, of Texas, for the payment of the cotton claims, it is expected that efforts will be made to secure its consideration in the house of representatives at an early day. The bill is of vital importance to the people of the southern states, and the measure involves an appropriation of nearly $10,000,000. The movement for the payment of the claims was started originally by Governor McSweeny, of South Carolina, who enlisted the support of the southern members of congress. The bill has the support of both the senators and the entire North Carolina delegation in the house of representatives.

The report of the committee on claims is understood to have been unanimous, and Mr. Cooper stated on Wednesday that he would seek to get the bill before the house at the earliest possible date. This will require under the rules of the house unanimous consent, but the author of the measure will seek to obtain recognition from Speaker Henderson to get his bill before the house on its passage.

The measure to place pilots under the exclusive jurisdiction of the United States, which has been vigorously opposed by the National Pilots' Association, of which Hon. Ed. J. O'Brien, a member of the Florida legislature is president, is considered as virtually dead for this session The opposition to the measure is very strong and increasing. Representative Swanson, of Virginia, has just announced his determination to oppose the bill. He stated the other day that in his judgment there is not the slightest chance for its passage through the house, nor even its being reported during the the present session of congress. The sentiment of the members of the North Carolina delegation is believed to be unanimous in opposition to the Pilot bill.

Mr. Dockery, who is contesting Mr. Bellamy's seat, was at the Metropolitan hotel yesterday. The report of the committee in the case of Pearson vs. Crawford in favor of Mr. Pearson, has encouraged Mr. Dockery, and he is in nigh hopes that the elections committee in his case may show the same liberality in construing the law in his case, and award him the seat of Mr. Bellamy.

The decision of the committee in the Pearson-Crawford case, is denounced by all North Carolina democrats, who say that it is the worst case of partizanship yet seen during this congress. This case will not be taken up in the house for consideration likely for some time, probably after the case of Wise vs. Young.

Crawford has thus far declined to make any statement for publication, but his friends do not have much hopes that the house can be influenced to set aside the decision of the elections committee in this case.

Representative Thomas, of North Carolina, the other day introduced a bill in the house of representatives for the relief of Richard Berry, of North Carolina, involving an old war claim. The bill has been referred to the committee on war claims for consideration.

It is reported that Governor Taylor, of Kentucky, may become a candidate for congress next fall, in the third Kentucky district, formerly represented by Minister Godfrey Hunter. The district is said to be republican, but is now represented by a democrat, Representative Rhea.

H. C. Cowles, of North Carolina, is in the city. He is registered at the National Hotel, and will be in Washington several days. He is here on personal business.

An effort is being made to compell the street cars of the District of Columbia to provide vestibules for their motormen. Representative Latimer, of South Carolina, a member of the district committee, stated during the hearing yesterday that he had been informed by two motormen that the company would discharge all of its employees who entered any complaint against the manner of their treatment, or against being compelled to suffer from the cold.

Prevented a Tragedy.

Timely information given Mrs. George Long, of New Straitsville, O., prevented a dreadful tragedy and saved two lives. A frightful cough had kept her awake every night. She tried many remedies and doctors but steadily grew worse until urged to try Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle cured her, and she writes this marvelous medicine also cured Mr. Long of a severe attack of pneumonia. Such cures are positive proof of the matchless merit of this grand remedy for curing all throat, chest and lung troubles. Only 50c and $1 00. Every bottle guaranteed. Trial bottles free at C. E. Holton's drug store.

The British bark Thomas Faulkner, which sailed from Pensacola, Fla., was wrecked at Riddle Rock, on January 29, all the crew being saved.

BRYAN INVITED TO RALEIGH.

Was Wired Yesterday and His Answer is Awaited.

Col. William J. Bryan has been invited to address the citizens of Raleigh next Tuesday night, but it is entirely a matter of conjecture yet as to whether he will accept the invitation.

Yesterday morning State Chairman F. M. Simmons and National Committeeman Josephus Daniels wired an invitation to Colonel Bryan at New York, requesting him to address the citizens of Raleigh next Tuesday.

Colonel Bryan spoke in Plainfield, N. J., yesterday, and in New York city last night, and the telegram was given him upon his arrival there. An answer is expected this morning.

Next Monday night Colonel Bryan will address the general assembly of Virginia, which is now in session in Richmond. The plan is to have Colonel Bryan come to Raleigh from Richmond Tuesday and speak here Tuesday night.

Colonel Bryan has signified his willingness to visit Raleigh, and National Committeeman Daniels and Chairman Simmons believe that this the most opportune time for Colonel Bryan to come, and that he will accept the invitation to be here next Tuesday.

If Colonel Bryan accepts, a big demonstration will be planned in his honor and thousands of people from all over the state will visit the city on that occasion.

When Colonel Bryan spoke here during the last campaign the crowd assembled in Nash square, and it is estimated that fully 15,000 people heard him. If he speaks here Tuesday, the Academy of Music will doubtless be engaged for him.—Morning Post.

THE BOERS RETREAT.

Some News That Looks Like Business Has Begun.

By Cable to the TELEGRAM

Sterkstrom, Feb. 8—The Boer attack yesterday on Per Hook proved to be only a feint of the main attack, which developed later, and which was directed at this place. The Boers with three guns shelled the British position and started to advance, when General Gatacre rushed his reinforcements to the front. The Boers retreated, the British pursuing.

Spearman's Camp, Feb. 7—(delayed)—The British position on Vaal Krans ridge has been made secure. The infantry advanced today long the ridge driving the Boers before them. Vaal Krans ridge forms a continuation of Brakefontein range and is several miles east of Potgeiter's drift.

Over half of the Boer troops were natives. The enemy held on until the British reached the top kopje when they fled.

FROM BULLER.

London, Feb. 8—General Buller has telegraphed the war office that the approximate British casualties in the fighting at Potgeiter's drift till Tuesday noon was 233.

Spearman's Camp, Feb. 8—General Buller has clinched his position on the north side of Tugela river and mounted heavy guns. The infantry are now entrenched and it will be extremely difficult for the Boers to dislodge him.

DEATH AT KERNERSVILLE.

Coroner's Jury Says Apoplexy—Women Arrested in Winston.

Special to the Telegram.

Winston, Feb. 8—W. J. Willis, aged about 60 years, died suddenly at his home in Kernersville last night. He became sick soon after taking a drink of water and soon died. There was some suspicion that the water had been poisoned, but the coroner's jury rendered a verdict that death was caused by apoplexy. Mr. Willis had been twice married. His second wife and several children survive him.

Nine women were arrested at R. J. Reynold's factory this morning for refusing to be vaccinated. The doctors later excused six of them, one was vaccinated and two who lived out of the city were forbidden to come here to work.

COLONEL BRYAN WILL COME

To Speak in Raleigh Next Tuesday Night.

THE INVITATION IS ACCEPTED.

The North Carolina Capital City Will Be Filled With People—An Invitation to Everybody.

Since the article printed elsewhere from the Morning Post, concerning the invitation to Mr. Bryan to speak in Raleigh, was put in type, we have received the following message from National Committeeman Josephus Daniels, of Raleigh:

Raleigh, N. C., Feb. 8, 1900.

To the Telegram,
Greensboro, N. C.

Mr. Bryan accepts the invitation to speak in Raleigh on Tuesday night, February 13th. Everybody is invited to come and hear him.

Josephus Daniels.

It is probable, though we have no information on that point, that reduced railroad rates will be secured for this occasion, and if so there will be a tremendous crowd in Raleigh.

MANILA'S CURSE.

Worst Possible Blot on Uncle Sam's Fair Name.

Of all the problems that confront us in the reconstruction of the Philippines the gravest and wickedest is one of our own importation. The Manila saloons, taken collectively, are the worst possible kind of blot on Uncle Sam's fair name. The city's air reeks with the odors of the worst of English liquors. And all this has come to pass since the 13th of August, 1898! With the vanguard of American troops entering Manila rode the newly-appointed Philippine agent of a concern that had ship-loads of drink on the way. He secured offices, warehouses, options on desirable locations for saloons, and opened business. Some of the proudest and best young of our land marched into Manila to proclaim the dawn of a new era of honesty, liberty and light. It was a day of rare import to the down-trodden east But the saloon keeper sneaked in under the folds of Old Glory! Almost by the time the American soldier had stacked arms in the city a score of American saloons were open. Swiftly other scores were added to them. The number grew and grew. At the outbreak of the insurrection there were hundreds of American saloons in Manila. There not being at that time enough American civilians, so disposed, to take up all the licenses, natives were debauched into the traffic. Spaniards engaged in the business, perhaps with an ironic purpose of hastening the corruption of both American and Filipino.

Today there is no thoroughfare of length in Manila that has not its long line of saloons. The street cars carry flaunting advertisements of this brand of whiskey and that kind of gin. The local papers derive their main revenue from the displayed advertisements of firms and companies eager for their share of Manila's drink money. The city presents to the new-comer a saturnalia of alcoholism. For Manila's climate is one in which drink is peculiarly seductive and insidious. It is always oppressively hot there, and a glass of beer, fresh from the ice, seems to the hot, perspiring and dusty like a draught of nectar. He who over-works in the slightest degree finds momentary stimulus in whiskey. There is relief—though dangerous relief—in alcohol, and so American Manila drinks, despite all the warnings of science that is plague and fever-infested tropical countries alcohol presents the shortest route to the grave.

The Filipinos of Manila are rather slow to take to drink. They have always heretofore been an abstemious people. Soda and tonics have furnished the bulk of their beverage that was not drawn from the hydrant. Yet slowly but surely the natives are veering around to the temptations to be found in the saloon. Five years more of the present saloon reign in Manila will see a sad demoralization of the natives. At present the nondrinking majority of Filipinos feel only contempt for the Americans whom they see lurchingly walking the streets or crouching in silly semi-stupor in the cabs on their way to office, home, or barracks.

I do not mean this is a tirade against all saloons. It is only a much-needed protest against the worst features of the American saloon that have crept into Manila arm in arm with our boasted progress. There is nowhere in the world such an excessive amount of drinking per capita, as among the few thousand Americans at present living in Manila. Nor does this mean that we have sent the worst dregs of Americanism there. Far from it; some of the best American blood is represented in Manila. There are men of brains and attainment there, who would nobly hold up our name, were it not for the saloon at every step. Gamblers and depraved women—in both classes, the very dregs of this and other countries—have followed, and work hand in hand with their natural ally. These people are fast teaching the natives the depths of Caucasian wickedness, and the natives imagine it is Americanism.

Go into one of the "better class" saloons along the Escolta. Here, seated at the tables, you will find American soldiers and their non-commissioned officers. They are ordering fast, talking with the thick volubility of semi-intoxication. It does not take a new arrival many minutes to reach that stage. At other tables are American clerks, merchants, very likely, and rather seedy-looking speculators. At one or two of the tables you will find army and navy officers, with a sprinkling of the better-paid class of government civilian employes. At no table is the drinking slow. Peanut-women and flower girls pass in and out, and frequently become the target for lewd sallies. Barefooted Filipino waiters dart about, bearing on trays the stuff that is quickening inebriation. All the time these little waiters are silently thinking on the visible traits of the American conquerer.

On the porch of "Paris restaurant" overlooking the river, are little groups in which the commissioned officers of the army and navy are conspicuous. Every now and then a reveller, in uniform or civilian dress, breaks in o hilarious song; or abuse, as the mood seizes him. Laughter or oaths follow and the tumbulence grows. Then the little Filipino waiter winks slyly and says: "El Americano tien' mucho vino!" (the American has much wine). A simple thing this may appear by itself, but if the average Filipino could be induced to frankly tell what impressed him as the greatest characteristic of the American, he would say that it was the American's fondness and capacity for liquor.

Over in Santa Cruz, under the very nose of the police station of that district, are to be found some of the most degraded saloons, run by the natives themselves. Here hard liquors are much cheaper than in other places; they are vile, for Manila has as yet no standard in the purity of liquors. Here the sort of stuff is sold that sets men's brain on fire twice as quickly as a better grade of liquor would. Here fights are not uncommon.

So far as my observation went, I found that the military authorities of Manila were not on record as having done anything to abate this crying disgrace. Indeed one American officer, fairly high in the councils at the palace, is the putative head of the concern that is doing the most to encourage and supply the thirst of Manila.

We tried to civilize the Indian, and incidentally wiped him off of the earth by permitting disreputable white traders to supply him with ardent liquors. Are we to repeat this disgrace, ten fold, as we at present seem fair to do in the Philippines?—Irving Hancock in Leslie's Weekly.

THREE LONG SPEECHES.

Financial Bill Strongly Assailed in the Senate.

Washington, Feb. 7—The greater part of today's session of the senate was devoted to discussion of the financial bill. Messrs. Turner, Bate and Allen discussed the subject in lengthy remarks. All three opposed it. Mr. Turner charged the republicans with infidelity with regard to bimetalism. He praised the Chicago platform and referred to his party as the "noble, inspired and God-like democracy." Mr. Bate asserted that the bill was in the interest of national banks and against the interests of the people. Mr. Allen said there was nothing commendable in the measure from his point of view, and declared that he was a bimetalist on the basis of the ratio of sixteen to one.

Mr. Vest earlier in the day, gave notice of an amendment requiring the treasury to print $200,000,000 of bond and treasury notes, legal tender for all debts, to be issued to persons and corporations in amounts equal to the value of United States bonds deposited by such persons and corporations. The amendment provides that the notes shall bear interest.

Mr. Depew read a letter from Philippines Commissioner Schurman, denouncing as "preposterous" the recent statement by Mr. Pettigrew that he (Schurman) had attempted to bribe Aguinaldo and had failed.

With but little delay in the way of general debate, the house today finally disposed of the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill for the year 1901, passing it in practically the shape recommended by the committee on foreign affairs.

Mr. Shafroth, of Colorado, secured an opportunity to repeat and enlarge his speech of last week, arguing that it was the duty of the United States, of their own violition, under the terms of The Hague peace treaty, to mediate between the British and Boers.

Mr. Grosvenor, of Ohio, sent the house into shrieks of laughter, ridiculing Shafroth's demand, in mock heroics denouncing the United States for their failure to have interferred in the past in cases of oppression and wrong in the relations of nations. He recommended the appointment of a commission to roam over the earth in search of cases of foul play and wrong-doing, and in case it appeared that natives of any wronged country resided in the district of any member of congress, then the United States was to go to war and redress the wrong.

C. E. Holton, druggist, guarantees every bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and will refund the money to any one who is not satisfied after using two-thirds of the contents. This is the best remedy in the world for la grippe, coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough and is pleasant and safe to take. It prevents any tendency of a cold to result in pneumonia.

THE KENTUCKY MUDDLE.

Taylor Will Not Sign the "Peace Treaty."

WANTS RADICAL CHANGES MADE

It Now Looks Like There Will be Further Trouble in the Blue Grass State—The Demands.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Frankfort, Feb. 8—There is no probability of Taylor signing the peace agreement today. Many believe that he will not sign at all, at least not until some radical changes have been made in the document.

ANOTHER DESPATCH.

Frankfort, Feb. 8—Governor Taylor has not signed the Louisville peace agreement, nor will he as it now stands, nor will any action be taken today. This was determined at a conference that lasted until two o'clock this morning at which all of Taylor's legal advisers were present.

Judge Yost made a vigorous protest against the signed treaty and said if the governor signed any agreement it should be one of his own making and should provide for the convening of the legislature, the repeal of the Goebel election law, the passage of a fair substitute, the settlement of contests by the vote of the house and senate in separate sessions and the settlement of minor contests by fair trial before the election commission; and further that the republican incumbents be allowed to take any legal steps that may be deemed proper.

LEGISLATORS URGE TAYLOR.

London, Ky., Feb. 8.—Not hearing anything from Frankfort as to the result of last night's conference, the house met today and passed resolutions of confidence in Taylor and pledging their united, earnest, loyal and enthusiastic support, urging him to stand firm, letting an appeal to all Kentuckians go forth that we will never compromise with dishonor, nor yield an iota in this battle for civil liberty and the rights of the people as expressed at the polls in November.

Chairman Stack, of the republican house caucus, said this morning that he rather lent towards a compromise, but declared that the democrats seemed to want all the best of it and he is now for a fight to the finish. He said "the fight will have to come sooner or later and it had as well be commenced now so it can be got through with." The members here are equally obdurate. Much indignation is expressed against Lieutenant-Governor Marshall for signing the Louisville agreement.

Beckham But 30 Years Old.

John Crebs Wickliffe Beckham, who succeeds William Goebel as the democratic claimant to the governorship of Kentucky, is only thirty years old.

His father was a lawyer and legislator in Kentucky before the civil war, and his maternal grandfather was Charles Wickliffe, postmaster-general in James K. Polk's cabinet.

The constitution of Kentucky provides that if the governor dies, resigns or is removed from office during the first two years of his four-year term, the lieutenant governor shall act as chief executive only until his successor is chosen at the next election in the following November. Therefore, if Mr. Beckham is finally entitled to the office he will have less than a year to serve.

In person Governor Beckham is of slight physique and of somewhat boyish appearance.

Mrs. Wigwag—"I saw a beautiful hat today, dear. May I buy it and have it charged?" Mr. Wigwag—"I dont like this idea of not paying cash." Mrs. Wigwag—"Why, before we were married, dear, you said there could be no perfect love without trust."

Both smiles and tears the husband fears,
And always beats retreat;
Twin weapons they, which in life's fray
Have never known defeat.

THURSDAY, FEB 8 1900.

Raleigh has grown tired of the combination market house and auditorium (Metropolitan Hall) and is now moving for separate buildings. In this the capital city is acting with good sense.

It is said that Buller has recrossed the Tugela river and is again fighting. There has been no report from him in some time. If he isn't heard from soon we may expect the Boers to prepare a report for him.

The boys are coming to the front. Beckham, who succeeds Goebel as governor of Kentucky, is only 30 years old. Provided his claim to the office is established, however, he will have but a year to serve, as in Kentucky, on the death of the governor, the lieutenant governor only holds the office until the following election, provided the governor dies during the first two years of his term.

It looks now like the fight is not over in Kentucky. Taylor still hesitates about signing the Louisville treaty, and it is said that republicans all over the state are urging him by letter and by wire to hold out on the ground that the "treaty" is virtually a surrender to the democrats. Taylor has been operating in a high-handed manner, and a part, at least, of the grit of Kentucky is determined that he shall stop. If he holds out, we may expect further tragedy in the blue grass state. There are people on both sides who will shoot.

People everywhere who have the slightest sense of honor will condemn as a high-handed outrage the report of the elections committee which favors the unseating of Crawford and the seating of Pearson from the ninth district. That Crawford was fairly and honestly elected there is not the least doubt, and that by the votes of white people. After this action on the part of the republicans it is cheeky in the extreme for them to talk about disfranchising white people. They should blush for shame.

Col. William J. Bryan has been invited to speak in Raleigh next Tuesday night. Up to this morning he had not signified his acceptance of the invitation. He was yesterday wired by Chairman Simmons and National Committeeman Daniels, and it is thought that he will come, as he speaks in Richmond on Monday night previous. North Carolina democrats will be glad of an opportunity to hear what the colonel has to say. His visit will be more appreciated if he comes without any Butler frills or trimmings. We may be mistaken, but it has appeared to us that Mr. Bryan is in the habit of regarding Butler as being of as much importance as the democrats of this state. If he is to be the next president, we hope he will come and stay long enough to disabuse himself of that idea.

The Three "R's" of Radicalism.

"I have examined that question and I am prepared to state that not more than 15 per cent. of the lynchings are traceable to that crime (rape) and there are many more outrages against colored women by white men than there are by colored men against white women."

This is the remark of White, the negro congressman from North Carolina. It was made on the floor of the house of representatives in Washington, with the approval of Linney, a black-and-tan, who yielded the floor to White in order that he might make the infamous statement. Senator Pritchard sat near in silent approval. And this is the way that the white people of the south are represented by the renegades who get into office on the backs of the negro. That is what the white people of the south have submitted to for 35 years, with a patience and self-control that have no parallel in history. This is a sample of the hellish sentiments that fill the bosoms of those who would see their own people submerged by a wild revel of negro rule, ruin and rape, the "three R's" to which the white men and women of North Carolina must school themselves.—News & Observer.

"After doctors failed to cure me of pneumonia I used One Minute Cough Cure and three bottles of it cured me. It is also the best remedy on earth for whooping cough. It cured my grandchildren of the worst cases," writes Jno. Berry, Loganton, Pa. It is the only harmless remedy that gives immediate results. Cures coughs, colds, croup and throat and lung troubles. It prevents consumption. Children always like it. Mothers endorse it. Howard Gardner.

The Drunken Lieutenant.

The Terrible took a prominent part in the bombardment of Odessa. Our second lieutenant, Mr. S., was not a temperate man. Before the bombardment began he sought for courage in a square faced bottle, and when the drum beat to quarters he was in his cabin in a drunken sleep, from which he could not be awakened. As I was midshipman of his quarters, I had to fight his guns. In the evening, when he came to himself, he was put under arrest, and we midshipmen speculated whether he would be shot or hung at the yardarm. Either would have been a thrilling episode, but I am not sure that his fate was not even more tragic.

As soon as the anchor was dropped in the Golden Horn, off Stamboul, the captain ordered, "Man the second gig." We all wondered. Then he said, "Tell Mr. S. I want him."

"The second gig is manned, Mr. S.," said the skipper sternly and turned away.

S. took the hint, stepped at once into the boat and was landed at the nearest shore. From that day no soul ever heard what became of him. Whether he committed suicide, whether he got other employment (not a difficult matter in those busy times), whether, under another name, he won for himself the respect of his fellow men has never been known.—Contemporary Review.

John Bull and the Lion.

What could be more absurd than the conventional types of the nations—those types which we see and accept almost every day? England is peculiarly unfortunate. To express our national characteristics we have a choice of two figures, either a burly farmer or a lion. The British lion gets some little support from heraldry, and the national vanity is flattered by the analogy of our powers to those of the king of beasts. But otherwise how little appropriateness there is in representing us by an animal which most Englishmen have only seen in the degrading captivity of a menagerie, which has never within historical times inhabited their islands and about which they know almost nothing.

Considering also the chronically depressed state of British agriculture, it seems an ironical thing that the British nation should be typified by a farmer. If he were a manufacturer or a merchant or a seaman, there would be some appropriateness, but the stout eighteenth century John Bull with whom we are so familiar from allusion and picture is a being quite unknown to us in the flesh. He is just a good example of the time honored, inaccurate, conventional type. All vigor and suggestiveness have long departed from the figure. But we are too indolent to replace him.—London Globe.

New York Hospitality.

The hospitality of smaller places is rare if not unknown in New York. Hospitality there is different and tends to be swamped by numbers and even chilled into an apparent indifference that is really compelled by circumstances. Often it makes a brave fight and never wholly gives up, but it is a struggle against great odds. Not seldom it happens that the enormous aggravation of social and intellectual opportunities that confronts country people who come to live in New York so discourages them that they end in living narrower lives in the great city and seeing fewer people than in the smaller town from which they came. And if it does not discourage them it is apt to drive them too hard. A New Yorker who already had a house in town and another in the country near by excused himself for building a third in New Hampshire by saying: "In town or near town I never get away from engagements. I want a place where I can have some leisure, and leisure to a New Yorker means, of course, a chance to do some work."—Scribner's.

How He Makes Friends.

A Missouri paper says that Senator Cockrell keeps in closer touch with the people of his state than any other man in the senate. One of his habits, according to capitol gossip, is to read in the senate the name of every constituent who sends him a petition. Other senators content themselves with presenting petitions in an indefinite bunch, and in this impersonal fashion they are noted in The Congressional Record. Cockrell's way is different, and when The Record appears there are the names of his constituents, looking very large. Forthwith to each person thus distinguished goes a copy of The Record, which is shown with much pride at the country store or postoffice, and the voter is a friend of Cockrell for life.

His Anxiety Ended.

Little Jack prays every night for all the different members of his family. His father had been away at one time for a short journey, and that night Jack was praying for him as usual. "Bless papa and take care of him," he was beginning as usual when suddenly he raised his head and listened.

"Never mind about it now, Lord," ended the little fellow. "I hear him down in the hall."

SALT RHEUM CURED BY Johnston's Sarsaparilla

QUART BOTTLES.

JUST SEEN IN TIME.

Slight Skin Eruptions are a Warning of Something More Serious to Come. The Only Safe Way is to Heed the Warning. Johnston's Sarsaparilla is the Most Powerful Blood Purifier Known.

Nature, in her efforts to correct mistakes, which mistakes have come from careless living, or it may be from ancestors, shoots out pimples, blotches and other imperfections on the skin, as a warning that more serious troubles (perhaps tumors, cancers, erysipelas or pulmonary diseases) are certain to follow if you neglect to heed the warning and correct the mistakes.

Many a lingering, painful disease and many an early death has been avoided simply because these notes of warning have been heeded and the blood kept pure by a right use of JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA.

Miss Abbie J. Rande, of Marshall, Mich., writes:

"I was cured of a bad humor after suffering with it for five years. The doctors and my friends said it was salt rheum. It came out on my head, neck and ears, and then on my whole body. I was perfectly raw with it. What I suffered during those five years, is no use telling. Nobody would believe me if I did. I tried every medicine that was advertised to cure it. I spent money enough to buy a house. I heard JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA highly praised. I tried a bottle of it. I began to improve right away, and when I had finished the third bottle I was completely cured. I have never had a touch of it since. I never got any thing to do me the least good till I tried JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA. I would heartily advise all who are suffering from humors or skin disease of any kind to try it at once. I had also a good deal of stomach trouble, and was run down and miserable, but JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA made me all right."

The blood is your life and if you keep it pure and strong you can positively resist disease or face contagion fearlessly. JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA never fails. It is for sale by all druggists, in full quart bottles at only one dollar each.

Reed and Strout.

Thomas B. Reed served in the navy during the civil war, and in 1865 he returned to Portland to practice law.

As a young lawyer he displayed the same qualities of ability and aggressiveness which have been a conspicuous characteristic of his political life. One of the strongest men at the Portland bar at the time was A. A. Strout.

Before beginning the trial of a suit it was Strout's habit to inquire of every juror as to the state of his health and impress each with the idea that the lawyer was solicitous of that juror's personal welfare.

Reed and Strout were constantly antagonizing each other, though they were very good friends. In nearly every case of importance Strout and Reed were on opposite sides.

It was annoying, indeed, for the suave Strout to hear Reed drawl out before the opening of a case:

"Well, your honor, Brother Strout having finished his morning task of shaking hands with the jury, we may now, I hope, proceed with the business of the court."—Philadelphia Saturday Evening Post.

Hardly Worth the Agony.

An artist of more than national fame chose the most beautiful girl in his town for a mate. Before they were married he said: "My dear, you are almost perfect. You lack but two things—your mouth is a little too small, and you are a little too thin. I wish that before we are married you would correct those two and become absolute perfection." For six months the poor girl wore a brass fixture in her mouth to stretch her jaw and ate fattening food. Then she was married. To an intimate friend she has since confessed that the agony of that six months' jaw stretching was not worth all she since has enjoyed as the wife of a distinguished artist.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

Who Whips?

The clergyman's little son was telling the small son of a parishioner of the dreadful fights which he and his sister indulged in.

"You don't mean to say that ministers' children fight?" replied the horrified little layman.

"Oh, yes."

"Who whips?"

"Mamma."—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

Chained Books.

The finest known collection of chained books is that in Hereford cathedral. It includes about 2,000 volumes, arranged in five bookcases, of which not less than 1,500 are secured by chains three or four feet long, each with a swivel in the center. A small collection of chained books, long forgotten, has just come to light in the vestry of the church at Sleaford, Lincolnshire.

A Woman's Bank.

The Fifth Avenue National bank of New York has 5,000 women depositors. It is situated at the corner of Forty-fifth street and Fifth avenue, in the midst of the residences of wealthy classes, and is almost exclusively patronized by rich women, who keep their household accounts and pin money there. The receiving tellers are very busy during the first few days of every month, when the patrons of the bank bring in the allowances they have received from their husbands or fathers, but the rest of the time they have comparatively few depositors to take care of, and have plenty of time to assist the paying tellers in cashing checks that have been drawn to meet grocery or dressmakers' bills.

A Hank of Hair.

Chickens are sold by the piece in Buenos Ayres. They are dressed before being offered for sale, the only feathers left upon them being those of the tail.

The same custom prevails in China as to dogs, where a bit of the dog's hair is always left on the end of the tail, even when the animal is cooked. But this is because the Chinese consider the flesh of black dogs the best and most certain to put a brave spirit into the body of the eater.

Animals That Know Roads.

The Welsh mountain sheep have obtained legal recognition of their ability to distinguish boundaries and their own roads through their pastures. One flock of sheep fought a trespassing flock and the court decided that the sheep were worth a half crown more than others because they knew their roads and boundaries.

Explosive.

An ambitious young writer having asked, "What magazine will give me the highest position quickest?" was told, "A powder magazine, if you contribute a fiery article."

The oldest medical recipe is said by a French medical journal to be that of a hair tonic for an Egyptian queen. It is dated 400 B. C., and directs that dogs' paws and asses' hoofs be boiled with dates in oil.

W. W. Harlan and A. J. Raiford, two convict guards, were killed at Portland, Ore., while trying to terrorize the town.

A Sarcastic Congressman.

"Judge Martindale has recalled the time when I was the very youngest and very smallest elder, which reminds me of an occurrence at Washington when a number of very anomalous bills for public improvements were introduced. I decided to veto some of them. I remember that there was a New York representative who had an interest in an appropriation of $250,000 for a public building on the Hudson. A friend learned from him that it had been vetoed. 'See the president,' suggested his friend. The representative responded that that was his intention, and next day went to the White House, where he was informed by the secretary that the president could not be seen. 'Good gracious!' exclaimed the representative. 'Has he got so small as that?'"

Cornish Diamonds.

"Please God," said Aunt Mary Bunny, "if I live till this evenin and all's well I'll send for the doctor."

"I shan't name no names," said Uncle Billy, "but Jack Tremenheere's the man."

John Carter, the famous smuggler of Porthleah, went throughout Cornwall by the name of the King of Prussia. A Mousehole man, on hearing news of the real king of Prussia's defeat at Jena, remarked "Misfortunes never come single. I'm sorry for that man. Not more'n six weeks ago he lost 300 keg o' brandy, by information, so I'm towld."

All the crew had been saved, but one poor fellow was brought ashore unconscious. The curate turned to the bystanders.

"How do you proceed in the case of one apparently drowned?"

"S'arch his pockets."—Cornish Magazine.

Willow Baskets.

The question is sometimes asked why some willow baskets soon become brown and discolored while others keep white so much longer. Those that discolor are made from willow from which the bark has been removed by steaming. The imported baskets, made where labor is not such a big factor in cost, are woven from willows that have been peeled with knives, and these hold their clean white color to the close of their existence, which is a much longer period than that of the domestic product. If one only knew how to distinguish "t'other from which," now!

His Life Was Saved.

Mr. J. E. Lilly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverance from death. In telling of it he says: "I was taken with typhoid fever that ran into pneumonia. My lungs became hardened. I was so weak I couldn't even sit up in bed. Nothing helped me. I expected to soon die of consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle gave great relief. I continued to use it and now am well and strong. I can't say too much in its praise." This marvellous medicine is the surest and quickest cure in the world for all throat and lung trouble. Regular sizes 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottles free at C. E. Holton's drug store; every bottle guaranteed.

One Minute Cough Cure, cures. That is what it was made for.

The Automaton chess player is a wonderful thing. It plays a perfect game inside its limitations. But once outside the routine moves, the Automaton is a failure. Much of medical practice is as limited in its way as the moves of the Automaton at chess. No medical man can move with success outside his experience and training. For that reason the local doctor, often gives up as hopeless a case which is quite curable when greater skill and experience are brought to bear.

It is the so-called "incurable" and "hopeless" cases, which come in such numbers to Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., for treatment. Men and women with weak lungs, obstinate coughs, emaciated bodies and fevered cheeks have found in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery the true elixir of life. "The blood is the life" and the "Discovery" by increasing the activity of the blood making glands, and restoring to healthy action the digestive and nutritive organs, places the entire system in a condition to throw off disease. There is no alcohol, opium, or other narcotic, in "Golden Medical Discovery."

Mr. Chas. Hunwick, of Lenox, Macomb Co., Mich., writes: "I have never felt better in my life than I do now. I have taken Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery right along. I think I am doing finely. I do not cough now and I can sleep like a school boy. I think I will have to change my mind about 'Patent Medicines,' as I never had much faith in them; but you must know that I have been treated in two hospitals and by three doctors besides, and received no benefit; so I think your medicine is the only medicine for me."

Taylor's High-Handed Act.

W. S. Taylor has forfeited the sympathy of the American public; therefore, so far as he is concerned there will be no regret if he shall fail to prove that he has been unlawfully voted out of office by the Kentucky legislature. When he used the state militia to prevent the assembling of that body Taylor was guilty of a dangerous usurpation of power. On that ground he ought to be impeached and deprived of his office, even if his claim to it on other grounds should be established — Chicago Record.

There is no better medicine for the babies than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Its pleasant taste and prompt and effectual cures make it a favorite with mothers and small children It quickly cures their coughs and colds, preventing pneumonia or other serious consequences. It also cures croup and has been used in tens of thousands of cases without a single failure so far as we have been able to learn It not only cures croup, but when given as soon as the croupy cough appears, will prevent the attack. In cases of whooping cough it liquefies the tough mucous, making it easier to expectorate, and lessens the severity and frequency of the paroxysms of coughing, thus depriving that disease of all dangerous consequences. An Editor's Life Saved by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

During the early part of October, 1896, I contracted a bad cold, which settled on my lungs and was neglected until I feared that consumption had appeared in an incipient state. I was constantly coughing and trying to expel something which I could not. I became alarmed and after giving the local doctor a trial bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the result was immediate improvement, and after I had used three bottles my lungs were restored to their healthy state.—B. S. Edwards, publisher of the Review, Wyatt, Ill. For sale by C. E. Holton, druggist.

Crippled by Rheumatism.

Those who have Rheumatism find themselves growing steadily worse all the while. One reason of this is that the remedies prescribed by the doctors contain mercury and potash, which ultimately intensify the disease by causing the joints to swell and stiffen, producing a severe aching of the bones. S. S. S. has been curing Rheumatism for twenty years—even the worst cases which seemed almost incurable.

Capt. O. E. Hughes, the popular railroad conductor, of Columbia, S. C., had an experience with Rheumatism which convinced him that there is only one cure for that painful disease. He says: "I was a great sufferer from muscular Rheumatism for two years. I could get no permanent relief from any medicine prescribed by my physician. I took about a dozen bottles of your S. S. S., and now I am as well as I ever was in my life. I am sure that your medicine cured me, and I would recommend it to any one suffering from any blood disease."

Everybody knows that Rheumatism is a diseased state of the blood, and only a blood remedy is the only proper treatment, but a remedy containing potash and mercury only aggravates the trouble.

S.S.S. For The Blood

being Purely Vegetable, goes direct to the very cause of the disease and a permanent cure always results. It is the only blood remedy guaranteed to contain no potash, mercury or other dangerous minerals.

DYSPEPSIA

"My wife suffered for many years from Nervous Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Sleeplessness and Nervous Debility" writes John Kelloes, Philadelphia. "We tried many physicians and numerous remedies, but with no results, until I heard of Johnson's Dyspepsia Cure. We bought six boxes, and the results far surpassed our expectations. She now eats and sleeps well, is gaining in flesh, and her color, which had got to be yellow and sickly, is now as fresh as when we were first married, and I tell her that Johnson's Dyspepsia Cure has made her ten years younger."

WINE OF CARDUI

How a Woman Suffers.

HOWELL, IND., Nov. 26.
I will always praise Wine of Cardui. It has done me more good than all the medicines I have ever taken in my life. Please send a book about female diseases to the ladies whose names I enclose
Mrs. MINNIE STODGHILL.

McELREE'S
Wine of Cardui

It isn't necessary for a woman to give particulars. When she says she has "female troubles", other women know what that means. It means days and nights of endless suffering. It means headaches which no tongue can describe. It means that terrible bearing and dragging down in the lower abdomen. It means agonizing backache, and shoulder ache, and arm ache, and aches in the lower limbs. It means nerves on edge—the blues—despondency and loss of hope. It means debilitating drains that the doctors call leucorrhœa. It means martyrdom—sometimes even death seems preferable. And still Wine of Cardui will utterly put those diseases and pains to rout. It has cured thousands of cases when nothing else on earth would. To the budding woman, to the bride, to the wife, to the expectant mother, to those going through the Change of Life, this Vegetable Wine is a blessing.

REPAIR SHOPS AT GREENSBORO.

Southern Will Build Small Shops at That Place.

The Southern is preparing to build repair shops at Greensboro, we understand.

It will not be a large shop but will enable Capt. Lee to repair his engines without sending them to the large shops at Spencer, unless there are some extensive repairs needed.

Capt. Lee has some thirty or more engines to look after and considerable time is lost in sending them to the repair shops.

The building of the Greensboro shops will not materially affect the Spencer shops—Salisbury Sun.

THE FOURTH ATTRACTION.

Get Your Seats Reserved at Once for the People's Course.

You can get your seats reserved at Ward's drug store tomorrow at 10 o'clock for Sunetaro, who will give the people's course the fourth attraction for this season Saturday night. No one person will be allowed to reserve more than six seats, which is as many as any one family have purchased. They are free and all subscribers should have a chance.

The seats in the gallery are reserved but not put on a sheet to select from.

No chairs will be used until all the seats on the first floor are taken and then at an actual cost to the course. Come early and get your seats, so no one will have cause to complain.

YOUR GLASSES Don't give relief, but sometimes your eyes smart, ache, become tired or water. Abuse by using glasses that are not right will ruin your eyes, or if neglected and strained when glasses are needed, trouble will come. This is not merely speculation but facts. We know it and you will find it out, perhaps to your sorrow. Our glasses will give relief. We guarantee our work right. Do you value your eyes? If so, protect them. Drs. Moore.

COMPLIMENTARY SUPPER.

At Clegg's to Mr. and Mrs T.T Pace, of Raleigh.

The supper last night was gracefully presided over by Mr. S. B. Norris, of this city, who is a warm personal friend of the groom, Mr. Pace. The supper was elegant, there were flowers in beautiful profusion and a pleasant exchange of compliments rendered the evening a delighlful one.

A SUDDEN DEATH.

Attributed to National Cause—Coroner Held Inquest.

Doctor J. P. Turner, coroner of Guiford county, was yesterday notified that a colored woman had been found dead near Buffalo church, two miles out from the the city.

Driving out he found the facts to be about as follows: A colored woman named Kate Alston, who lived in a cabin near the church, with a little five year old boy as a companion, had started to cook breakfast. The fire had been built, when she went back to her bed and lay down. The little boy went to the bed in a few minutes and found her asleep, as he thought. He tried to wake her and failing, went out and notified a colored man who was near. The man discovered that the woman was dead and notified the coroner.

After a thorough examination a verdict was rendered that the woman came to her death from natural causes, and a coffin was furnished at the county's expense for her burial.

Tried to Kill Himself.

Oscar Laws, a white man, formerly of Jonesboro, Tenn., recently manager of the telephone exchange in Mooresville, attempted suicide in the superior court room in Statesville. He was on trial for assault and battery, and as soon as he was sentenced to eight months on the county roads, he ripped out his knife and plunged it into his breast. The knife was wrested from him and he was carried to the clerk's office. There he made an attempt to use a razor, but was prevented from doing himself further injury, says the Statesville correspondent of Charlotte Observer.
